11:30 AM	Approximate arrival at Hillwood will be followed by a guided tour of the mansion that was bought by Marjorie Merriweather Post in 1955. She decided her home would be a museum to inspire and educate the public. Her northwest Washington, D.C., estate has endowed the country with the most comprehensive collection of Russian imperial art outside of Russia; a distinguished 18th-Century French decorative art collection; and 25 acres of serene landscaped gardens and natural woodlands for all to enjoy. We'll have an elegant three-course luncheon here as well. Lastly, we'll visit the U.S. Botanic Garden that are steeped in history, rich with tradition. The garden is a living plant museum that informs visitors about the importance and ,often irreplaceable, value of plants to the wellbeing of humans and earth's fragile ecosystems.
